LATEST FROM EUROPE.

ARRIVAL OF THE MERSEY.

Contrary to expectation, Captain Curlewis steamed into port on Sunday morning. Owing to the Mersey having been laid up in dock in Rio Janeyro, to be cleaned, it was supposed that at the earliest she would not be here before the 16th, but Captain Curlewis was determined to take us by surprise, and on Sunday morning when half the city was locked in slumber, the Mersey dashed up along side the guard ship. The news of the arrival of the packet spread like wild fire through the city, and at eight o'clock am. half the town was on the mole head. Mr. Lumb and family arrived, after a short trip to England: we tender our most cordial welcome to them. We have to thank the gallant captain of the Mersey for the punctual delivery of our supplements, which were dist ibuted to all who sent to our office at half-past eight o'clock on Sunday morning. The news from home will be found highly interesting. We regret to remark that the compliment of our supplement seems still to limit his observations to assaults on females, murders, robberies, &c.; but after all this is a small fault in a good child. The descriptive remarks on the American war will be found highly interesting, particularly to our country readers. The following is an epitome of the news.

ENGLAND.

Oct. 9, 1863.

The Stock Markets yesterday were dull. The final price of Consols was 93¼, and there was a further decline in some of the foreign speculative stocks. Money in good demand.

Last night's 'Gazette' contains the usual preliminary notices for the issue of writs for Barnstaple, Reading, Ripon, and Plymouth.

England has again been visited by an earthquake. It took place yesterday morning between three and five o'clock and was felt generally. From Liverpool, Hereford, Derby, Wolverhampton, Leek, Malvern, and numerous other places we have accounts of its having shaken the houses. There seems to have been an up-heaving of the earth from west to east, followed by an immediate subsidence, after which a loud rumbling noise was heard. At Liverpool and the villages near, two distinct shocks were felt. At Hereford the shaking was very severe, and the noise by which it was accompanied was loud in the extreme.

The Chancellor of the exchequer has succeeded Earl Russell as minister in attendance on the Queen at Balmoral.

The Crown Prince and Princess of Prussia arrived in London on Wednesday night, and immediately left for Balmoral.

It existing strong merit are not upset, the King of the Greeks may look presumptuous to the Princess of Denmark and Prussia, and the Queen of Great Britain, will never countenance the coming of October.

Continental journals will, of course, recur a plot in all this, and exaggerate the family gathering into a conspiracy against some body or something. The marriage, however, of these illustrious persons, is being caused by matters which are purely of a family character and it requires an extraordinary stretch of the imagination to attach to it a political object. The youthful King of the Greeks will visit London previous to proceeding to Athens. He will there meet his parents, the Princess of Wales (his sister), and other members of the English royal family, and his relatives by marriage, the Crown Prince and Princess of Prussia.

Prince Napoleon has arrived in London. His visit is still stated to be an official, but Paris correspondents persist in attaching to it a political object; and certain Paris journals quite as indefatigably continue to assert that this interpretation is incorrect. From the mass of contradictory statements thus made it is difficult to select even one deserving of credit, so that we must wait for time to solve the mystery.

The revenue returns for the quarter just expired are in all respects satisfactory. Owing to the recent reduction of taxation it is considered a splendid one.

Sir W. Atherton, the Attorney-General, has resigned in consequence of ill-health. It appears that the honourable and learned gentleman was offered the judgeship just conferred on Serjeant Pigott, but he declined it for the present session, in the hope that he might be re-sign the Attorney-Generalship. He will be succeeded by Sir Roundell Palmer, the Solicitor-General, who will instantly performed Sir W. Atherton's duties during the last session of Parliament. Mr. Collier, Q.C., and member for Plymouth, will probably be the new Solicitor-General.

There is little doubt that the long vacant bishopric of Nassau will be filled up by the appointment of the Rev. A. Venables, M.A., curate of St. Paul's, Oxford.

The writ for the election of a new member for Tamworth, in the place of Lord Raynham, now Vargais of Town shend, has been issued. The Liberal candidate is Mr. Peel, Mr. Colonel Peel, who is opposed by Mr. Peel who appears to be a great favourite with the Tories in the district.

During the week which ended on the 19th September there was a decrease of 21,13 in the number of persons receiving relief in the distressed cotton manufacturing districts under the insertion of Mr. Parnell. The amount of the central relief fund at the bankers' on Saturday last was £2,000.

The Channel Fleet sailed from Dublin on Thursday last for Spithead, where it will be laid up for the winter. Officers met with an excellent reception at Dublin, and several of the leading citizens would have followed the example of Liverpool, and given them a hospitality to the seamen, but Admiral Dacres was compelled to forbid it, owing to the limited period of the visit to the Irish capital.

The court-martial on Colonel Crawley will be an expensive affair. The cost is estimated at from £2,000 to £3,000, which it will be necessary to defray out of the public funds.

The Peruvian has not yet passed into the Peruvian, which is still in the hands of the builders, on the Clyde, caught fire on Tuesday, and it was seriously injured, the lower deck fittings, as at being entirely burned. This is the second accident happened to the Peruvian. On the occasion of her trial trip, a few days ago, she became fixed on the ways, and was not floated until after the lapse of two or three days. We understand that the Peruvian has not yet passed into the hands of her intended owners.

Two Swiss workmen who had absconded from Messrs. Slade with the property of their employer, were captured on Wednesday with a large portion of the money in their possession having left the country. Some of the tradition treaty with Switzerland the culprits could not be sent back to Basle, but the Swiss consul at this port compelled them to place in his charge the balance of the stolen cash.

A large portion of the cereal crops in Yorkshire, Herefordshire and Worcestershire is still uncut; but the yield, though late, is expected to be a fair one.

The Lord Mayor of Ireland has visited Londonderry for the first time. The object of his Excellency's visit was to inaugurate a splendid iron bridge which crosses the Foyle, immediately opposite the city. After the completion of the ceremony, the Viceroy dined with the municipal authorities, and made some satisfactory statements respecting the prosperity of Ireland.

UNITED STATES

TERRIBLE BATTLE

30,000 Killed and Wounded.

Defeat of the Northerners.

Battle of Chattanooga.

The Cincinnati "Commercial" gives the following account of the great battle at Chattanooga:—"The battle opened at seven o'clock in the vicinity of Wilder's on the road leading from McNair's to Chattanooga. The fighting was continued all the day, the combatants manoeuvring for troops finely. Early in the morning the rebels made an impetuous charge on the famous Louisville battery, and captured five out of the six guns belonging to it. The two guns which they were not perfectly terrific, the roll of musketry being far more continuous and deafening than at Stone River. At 2.40 p.m. our division's centre was pushed, broken, and retreated in disorder. Colonel Barnett planted a battery, and soon checked the pursuing enemy, who in turn were driven in disorder over the same ground. The division of General Davis was then driven back by the rebels with heavy loss, and every gun of the 8th Indiana regiment was captured, when General Davis rallied his forces and pushed the enemy back and retook the guns. Reynolds lost heavily, and stubbornly held his position, driving back the enemy, but never leaving his line. Palmer, who was overwhelmed, failed to get off his whole battery, and two guns were lost. Van Cleve, although fighting gallantly, lost ground, and, being overpowered, failed to gain his position. Our line was pressed severely and wavered. The rebels, exulting over their apparent success, rent the air with cheers. They advanced along the whole line, and when within the musketry range they were met on the left; till five o'clock the fighting was terrific. General Rosencranz grew anxious; the wounded kept pouring in, and the rebels had gained a position next to his headquarters. New forces were opposed to the rebels, and from this time till dark the fighting was of the most vindictive fury. At dusk, when the firing had almost ceased, the rebels threw forward fresh troops and engaged our right. The action again became general until long after dark, and raged with the greatest fury. The battle thus far has been a bloody one, and our loss is very heavy. Rebel prisoners say that some of their regiments are almost annihilated. Both parties occupy the same ground as when the action began. We have captured several hundred prisoners, many of whom are from the East. We took ten guns and lost seven."

Louisville, Sept. 20.

All kinds of exciting rumours are prevalent here, most of them quite adverse to Rosencranz' army. The military authorities have the line, and there is very little prospect of getting anything through to-night.

Louisville, Sept. 21, 12.45 a.m.

Our army, under General Rosencranz, has been badly beaten and compelled to retreat to Chattanooga by Bragg with heavy reinforcements from Lee, Hornegard, and Joe Johnston. The military occupation of the telegraph lines will prevent the transmission of the particulars to-night.

We have news from New York to the 16th September. So far as it goes it is favorable to the Federal cause. No fear of Beauregard again. He is said to have reached Richmond, but can prevent the Confederates making a flank movement. Rosecrans's position is reported to be strengthened since last supposed. Meantime General Meade was moving forward. The general opinion was that Richmond had been left nearly defenceless, and the sending of reinforcements to Bragg. The Confederate weakness is therefore, Meade's opportunity, and probably before this he has made the most of it.

Accounts from Washington and Cincinnati of the 21st say that Gen. Bragg has crossed the attack at early daylight on the 20th. The contest raged with great fury throughout the day. General Rosecrans reports that he was compelled to retreat to Chattanoga, which he hoped to hold until reinforcements came from Burnside, who was rejoiced to be within a few marches of 20,000 men. The Federals lost heavily in prisoners and artillery. It is estimated that 9,000 men are killed, wounded or either killed or wounded. Recent heavy rains and storms have rendered the ground in Virginia unfavourable for military operations. General Meade remains on the north bank of the Rapidan. The Confederate line occupies a most defensive position, extending from the Rapidan to Charlottsville. No further movements are expected for some days. The news of the defeat of General Rosecrans has made up to 401 per cent. from yesterday; to-day it is 38½.

FRANCE.

The Emperor presided to-day at a Council of Ministers at the Tuileries.

The 'Pays,' speaking of the demand of Prince Czartoryski for the recognition of Poland, adds:—

"We believe we may state that no official demand for recognition has been addressed to the French Government."

'La France' says its correspondents point out that very intimate political relations now exist between St. Petersburg and Vienna.

The Constitutionnel, in an article signed by M. Limayrac, points out the difference between the present and the French Government in 1847 and 1861. The writer says:—

"The Government of the Emperor, as inaccessible to revolutionary excitement as to interested hostilities, has always pursued a course on a par with its language."

'La France' states that M. Billault is almost entirely restored to health.

The same paper announces that most of the Powers have given their intention of recognising the new Mexican empire.

The 'Nord' publishes a telegram from St. Petersburg denying that the Russian Minister has protested at Rome against the religious processions ordered there on behalf of the Poles.

The 'Constitutionnel' states that no fresh negociations have been entered upon relative to the Polish question, neither have any communications been exchanged on that subject; and says—

The journal 'La Presse,' by publishing intelligence to that effect on Saturday, has been the dupe either of its imagination or of its correspondents."

The Empress is returning from Biarritz by sea. Her Majesty will pay a visit to the young Queen of Portugal, and report speaks vaguely of a possible visit to the Pope.

Marshal MacMahon has lost his eldest son.

The conqueror of Mexico, Marshal Forey, is expected to arrive in France in a few days. Paris is at present busy engaged in considering political subjects than in talking over the fate of Maximilian's monster balloon, which, after having been transported so loudly, and having attracted to itself so much attention by its great size and its greatest pretensions, came heavily down to earth after a dull voyage of four hours, and after traversing only forty miles of space.

The late floods in the Rhone have been attended with fatal effects at Chabeuil, a village about a league and a half to three feet in the Rue des Rodes, and the inhabitants had scarcely time to escape to the upper stories of their houses. The outer wall and terrace of the hospital were swept away, and for a moment it was feared that the entire building would have followed, the violence of the water was so great. All the crops on the banks of the river were destroyed. The barrack of the gendarmerie, and the mill, was also with great difficulty that the horses were saved; but the most deplorable calamity of the day was the death of a young girl who disappeared under the waters.

The overflowing of the river Vesre has caused great destruction at Chabeuil. The postman carrying letters from Combovin to Chabeuil was drowned in the meadows, and his body, with the letters he carried, were not found till the following day. The rails of the Paris and Lyons Railway were swept away by the flood near Tain, Alixan, Valence, and the communication is interrupted for several hours.

There is the exception of a few canards put forth by the 'Memorial Diplomatique,' there is an utter absence of news. The only fact of any importance is the conclusion of a treaty of the conditional acceptance of the Mexican throne by Archduke Max. His Imperial Highness dwelt significantly on the independence of Mexico as the new Empire, and on the consent of the Emperor of Austria. It is to be regretted that a favorable and intelligent a Prince as the Archduke should have condescended to include among serious conditions that great imposture of Napoleon's—the usual subterfuge. In short, his speech is looked upon as a refusal disguised by conventional phrases. The Archduke says that he will accept the throne "si la nation Mexicaine le veut reellement." The Archduke, therefore, took the wise course of asking Czar's representatives. In the little wholly powerless to give, and then, as an additional precaution against the possibility of being sent to Mexico, he declared that the question of the illustrious head of his family should be a sine qua non. Now, it is well known that the Emperor of Austria is so much opposed to the Mexican scheme that he refused to see the deputation on their passage through Vienna. In short, as the Archduke has refused, he has only disguise. I lay stress on this, as it is possible you may receive some telegraphic messages to the effect that "official Diplomatique' and the semi-official papers say, which is not worth the paper it is printed on.

MEXICO.

New York, Sept. 22nd.—The 'New York World' asserts that information has reached New Orleans that the French had occupied Matamoras with 5,000 troops. A collision is expected to take place at the mouth of the Rio Grande between the French and Federal gunboats on matters connected with cotton supplies for the Confederates. Cortes, the governor of Sonora, has arrived at Washington. It is rumoured that he comes to establish a Mexican alliance with the Federal government.

The 'Moniteur' of Wednesday contains another letter from Mexico depicting the astonishing and rapid progress already made by the French in Mexico. The letter also gives some statistics. In one official journal says are "one entirely new" respecting the Juarez government. These statistics refer to five persons who fell victims to the "guerre infame" waged against their liberty, their property, and their lives, from the 9th December, 1860, to the 1st January of the present year, Mexico. "In that short period," says the Moniteur, "no fewer than 7,000 victims may be counted of whom 2 65 were assassinated. Upon this melancholy list figure generals, a host of officers, honourable and inoffensive persons of property, and even foreigners. The publication, based upon official reports and documents has had an immense effect in Mexico. This martyrology has opened the eyes of the most incredulous, and has redoubled the sentiments of gratitude entertained by the Mexican people towards the liberating army, France, and the Emperor.

The Schleswig-Holstein Question.

Berlin, October 8.

The "Neue Preussische Kreus Zeitung" of this evening says: "According to intelligence from Copenhagen the French Government is said to have advised Denmark not to consider a Federal execution in Holstein as a casus belli.

Conclusion of a Dano-Swedish Alliance.

Copenhagen, Oct. 8.

The "Fœderlandet" of to-day says: "A treaty of alliance with Sweden has now been concluded, and will be signed in a few days. Differences between Denmark and Sweden were not the cause of the delay, which arose from Sweden wishing to first inform the Western Powers of this step. France has replied in a very friendly and encouraging manner to the note of the Swedish Government."

POLAND.

Still the brave Poles are left to carry on the bloodless, their life and death struggle with the Despot of the North; and, notwithstanding the fearful odds against them, they have to contend so gallantly are they asserting their right to independence, and nobly exhibiting their determination to attain it at any sacrifice. But great are those sacrifices which they are making daily. It is difficult to peruse without deep and loathing, the account of the cruelties perpetrated by the Russians on the Poles. It would seem that the barbarities of the oppressors become more aggravated in the manner of suppressing the insurrection diminish. The western powers have entirely failed to decrease the barbarous practices of the Czar's representatives. In the little town of Drasloszyce a terrible scene, we learn, has been recently witnessed by the Russian troops with two officers, entered the shop of a Jewish tailor named Iseh Sarna, and, finding some shirts and blouses which they thought were Polish uniforms, began to beat the proprietor, asking him who had ordered the uniforms to be made. On Sarna replying that he was not aware that he had ordered him to be tortured. The soldiers then lit 20 tallow candles and with them burnt his beard, whiskers, and hair. The wretched man's cries of revolting manner that his face was one wound. They then scorched him all over the body especially the soles of his feet. He fainted several times from the pain, but was revived by restoratives, which, however, were soon renewed. This continued from 1 to 6 a.m. At length the unhappy man, who had confessed the truth in saying he did not know the parties for whom he had ordered him to make the blouses, mentioned the first name that occurred to him, that of Zelazinski, the local treasurer, who was immediately arrested. Next day the troops plundered all the shops in the town belonging to Jews, and would have sacked the whole town had not the inhabitants, by a tribe of 200 silver roubles, induced their commander to restrain their excesses. After all the male inmates were lodged in prison, the women were placed under the guard of the soldiers on the market square. The barbarians, taking advantage of the confusion, treated the prisoners in the most odious manner. One of them, named Nowak, seized the daughter of a neighbouring coffee-house, died in convulsions. Of course, this treatment must result in a vengeful retaliation. It could produce nothing else, and therefore we observe that the chief of the National Police has issued an order to the effect that subordinates that they will be required to display a double amount of energy and make 'unheard-of sacrifices.' He says that if any member of the force is not prepared to become a martyr for Poland he had better resign. Three days are allowed for the consideration of this notice, which concludes in as follows:—"Those who after the lapse of that period are still with us must be prepared for every emergency, and obey the orders of their chiefs; for the welfare of the fatherland depends upon disregard for life, boundless sacrifice, obedience and courage. In three days, then, brothers, I will meet you prepared for sacrifice, as true heroes of our fatherland! Long live Poland! long live the Civic Guard! Death to our enemies!"

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The Paraguay steamer arrived yesterday, and brought us Sunday's "Reforma." We are glad to see that Moreno's prisoners have been all set at liberty, and were well treated whilst on board. The age for cruelty to prisoners has passed. Lucas Moreno has handed the government twenty nine ounces which he took from one of the prisoners, and which he says belongs to Mrs. Flores, of this city, she having remitted same to her struggling partner, Don Venancio. The 'Reforma' states that by passengers arrived from Porongos, the Government has received the following intelligence of Flores, vanguard having defected: several of the rebels were killed, and six taken prisoners. It is also stated that Flores struck his tents, and marched precipitately in the direction of the Arroyo Grande. Sr. Leal, a distinguished gentleman of Montevideo, arrived in the Mersey: it is said that he comes on a special mission to the Argentine Government.

The particulars respecting the suffering of the unfortunate Orientals in the Islands are truly heart-rending: six of them died from pure starvation. Gen. Moreno's conduct deserves our highest praise. He has relieved all without end, and even when they refused this he went himself on shore, took them on board his own steamer, and in this manner set and drink, and afterwards liberated them.

Colonel Condé had a hundred pistol, and stated that if he had not received assistance, his intention was to blow his brains out that night. He embraced Moreno when he saw him. The unfortunate men upon were discovered in the 'pais,' or jungle, all together.

We hear that the French Minister, Sr. Lafon de Ladebat, is about to leave Buenos Ayres for France.

On Saturday night the proprietor of the Hotel Plumbeus gave a magnificent entertainment to his friends from the camp. Dancing was kept up until past midnight. We are requested, on behalf of the sheep-farmers to return to the spirited and hospitable proprietor their best thanks.

We doubt if we exaggerate, when we say that Buenos Ayres is the greatest place under the sun for changing the name of her streets. The Chief of Police would be about as wise to call the Molo being repaired, is busy about distributing the beach. Paseo Julio, his worship very properly thinks, means nothing, except that owing to its immediate vicinity to the month of May street, July is an excusable appellation: he now proposes that this place shall be henceforth known as the Colon Crescent. We suppose that Governor Saavedra will accede to so laudable, so euphonious, a request.

To-morrow the new engine of the Northern Railway will be set in motion. It speaks highly for the contractors, that the first train, but a few days ago, plays this engine has been put together.

Yesterday, an agricultural traction engine, the property of a spirited neighbour, Mr. Martinez de Hoz, passed in front of the 'Standard' office. We congratulate that enterprising gentleman on his steam-stage 33 which was in the port, and the five individuals whose only business was to prevent the above articles, suddenly found themselves the captors of the town, but their victory was short lived: learning that the redoubtable Lucas Moreno was coming down, they cleared out, but one poor fellow who mistook some very clear words for water was caught, taken down, and accommodated on board the steamer 33.

Any people who want camp in this province ought to look at the estancia offered for sale. See advertisement in another column.

ALARMING RUMOURS.

The detention of the 'Libertad' on Saturday last gave rise to the most painful rumours. It was said that the English and French Ministers had called on the President to state that as the Libertad had the supplemental mail on board for the Saintonge, which was to leave Montevideo next morning, all the merchants' letters would be late if the steamer was detained. The President, however, was inexorable, in consequence of having heard from some of the parties who arrived that evening in the Canguaza, that Lucas Moreno had out the throats of some 40 persons caught in the islands. The whole city was thrown into a ferment. Letters, drafts, bills, even 'Standards,' which had been sent per imaginary supplementary mail—all late. President Mitre, it was said, had given orders to arm the Tabarcal, and would, the very first thing on Monday morning, declare war against Montevideo. Sunday was an awfully hot day: the whole city was in a perturbation. About two o'clock in the afte noon the heat was so excessive that scarcely a soul was to be seen in the streets. Foreigners were engaged reading the newspapers Suddenly the city was cooled by the refreshing intelligence that the Post-office was open and that the Liberal would sail. A divided rush took place—some for the Mole, some for the Post-office.

At five o'clock the city wore a gay appearance. The letters by the packet were digested, the supplemental mail was at last off, and the President had been seen mounting his horse for a ride, probably to the new cabbage-gardens at Palermo. The Oriental diff fleulty had subsided; feeling became the order of the day—feeding, we say, because dining is out of the question in such exquisite heat. 'The Mole, the Mole,' was then the cry of dreaming hundreds, thousands, of the alarmed citizens. Dickens, when he arrived in New York, saw many strange sights; but what most attracted his attention was the steady stream of people down Broadway in the morning, and vice versa in the evening. We are not aware whether any of the Mersey's passengers are of the Dicken's stamp, but it must have supplied a novel to a stranger to see the tide of human beings which swept down Calle Cangallo at about seven o'clock on Sunday evening. As we watched the crowd pass we remarked that an air of alarm prevailed in the multitude. Some, we suppose, were alarmed at the excessive heat, others at what the 'New York Herald' terms 'the situation,' but the majority at the approaching danger of 'the hole in the Mole.' The Mole—that emblem of municipal neglect and city extravagance—was literally black with people. Suddenly the sky became overcast, and a dust storm darkened the heavens, then was the true alarm. The multitude could no longer be compared to a stream; it was a torrent, a rapid, a cataract. The citizens fled in all directions. The dust, we have been informed by a scientific observer, must have come from the foot of the Cordilleras. Night closed in, and the alarmed citizens, and still more alarmed sheep-farmers, retired to rest listening to the torrents of Argentine rain, which thus closed in this eventful, alarming day.

PAUL JULLIEN.

On Sunday night M. Paul Jullien appeared for positively the last time, and though the theatre was very scantily filled, he met with a very warm reception; he himself seemed to partake of the general excitement that prevailed among the audience, and touched his instrument with unwonted energy. His variations from "La Traviata" were excellent, and called forth repeated applause, also the "Calm Ocean," after which, on being called again before the curtain, he appeared with his violin, and to the great delight of the few Englishmen who were present played the "God save the Queen," followed by "Home sweet home." Ere thank M. Jullien for the courtesy he thus displayed to the English public, and for acceding to our request. At the conclusion of his performance on the Sunday he was presented with a magnificent bouquet. We are sorry that Mr. J. will not afford our fair countrywomen an opportunity of showing their gratitude for his kindness, as the state of the weather prevented many from attending on Sunday night, consequently Colon was almost empty. The last piece, variations from "La Figlia del Reggimento" called great applause, and Mr. J. being called out again, was greeted with loud cheers.

M. Paul Jullien on leaving Buenos Ayres will carry with him the best wishes of all those who have heard him play, and we have no doubt they will all join with us in saying—

"Que se vaya bien."—Balfe.

MONTEVIDEO.

Nov. 13, 1863.

Gentlemen,

The national war steamer 'Treinta y Tres' has just arrived, bringing 25 prisoners taken on one of the islands in Guazu.

General Moreno has just landed with 150 infantry and 30 cavalry (or horse marines).

There are different versions, about as to how the prisoners were taken.

Some say they got starved out and accepted the 'olufio' offered them by Moreno. Others say Moreno set fire to the island and smoked them out like rats.

Moreno was received on the mole with 'vivas' and bouquets. There is no truth in the report from B. Ayres that peace is made with Flores. The Ministry has declared, at the last meeting of chambers, that it never was, or will be, their intention to treat with Flores.

Flores and Medina are looking at each other near Porongos, or what we call 'tiratandose.' Probably they may fight this time. We are momentarily expecting a 'chasque.'

DIED

We deeply regret to announce that the Very Rev. Father Feher, of the Oratory, died this morning at five minutes after seven. R.I.P September 26, 1863.—Weekly Register.

LOCAL EVENTS.

'THE BRAZIL AND RIVER PLATE MAIL,' is the name of a new journal to appear in London, on Nov. 7th, and on the 7th of every succeeding month. We salute our new colleague with the most fraternal regard and best wishes for its success. As it will appear in some measure a trans-atlantic 'Standard,' we beg to enlist the sympathies of our supporters in aid of the new journal. The subscription is 5s. per number, or 6s. per annum. Intending subscribers may enrol themselves at this office.

LIVERPOOL & RIVER PLATE STEAM Co. Some reports have been circulated in town to the effect that this Company was dissolved. This is incorrect, but we find the packet 'Parana' was postponed, as she is advertised in the Liverpool papers to sail Nov 18th, instead of October 18th.

A LETTER signed John Gheoghehan, Victoria Hotel, has been sent us, but we believe it a forgery, and will not publish it unless it be shewn genuine.

EL PAIS, JULIO, 1863, was favored yesterday with a farewell visit from this gentleman. We tender the best wishes of the resident foreigners of B. Ayres, for the success and prosperity of this distinguished French artist, the Paganini of the Chile. He left yesterday evening for Montevideo to take passage in the 'Chile' (just arrived) for Valparaiso.

ON 'CHANGE.

Nov. 16.

The paper dollar opened to day at 27.35, and closed at 27.20. 19092 silver dollars were sold for cash, and 17,000 for Saturday at 27.15.

The detention of the supplementary mail on Saturday evening by special order of the President, elicited some very severe remarks from the merchants. It is urged by many that the Executive can offer no excuse for such an unprecedented exercise of arbitrary power. We regret to say that we cannot find any excuse for the President: no doubt he was grossly imposed on by some lying filibusters who represented that some 30 or 40 Orientals had their throats cut by Moreno. But if steamers are to be stopped on account of rumours, no man can say when the next boat will leave for the Uruguay. The interests of commerce, the convenience of men who have millions of foreign capital in this country should have some claim at least upon the rulers of the country But the evil is not without a remedy. We want a steamer of our own. The merchants have now received a rather unpleasant proof of this fact. So long as the river trade is monopolized by these hermaphrodite war and peace steamers, so long will we be dependent upon the caprice of whoever is at the over circulous Executive.

The market news from Europe, respecting wool, is very good. Both in the manufacturing Continent, sales were in good demand, and ruled active. In the States also, wools were in very active demand, and prices advanced 2 to 3 cents. The demand has been active for ordinary and middling classes, and the sales amount to 1072 bales for sheep, at sustained prices; and for lambs, which are particularly in request, an advance of 2 to 10 cents has been paid. A parcel of 103 bales of Lyle's Island has been advertised for the 13th of October, which will attract the attention of buyers, and fix the value of the article. Sheepskins are in great request. In the Plata 11 Setiembre, 7000 arrobes were sold to day, 1000 at 80, and 6000 at 82. We hear that two wool buyers arrived by the packet. The prospects of wool are brightening, and we trust that next week we will have a beneficial effect on our market.

Buenos Ayres Stocks in London were selling at latest rates 94¾, and firm. We also hear, that the guarantee is to be applied to such effect as after shearing, when it not only cures the worst cases, but acts as a preservative against the disease.

The simplest method is bathing the animal, whether sound or affected, in the manner prescribed by the instructions.

Tre Specific has been found to be an effectual remedy for Insects (Garrapatas).

Numerous certificates may be seen, showing the high repute of the Specific throughout S. America. Its low price places it within the reach of all, 25th. suffering for 800 or 1000 Sheep. It contains no poisonous quality, and is sold at the above Depots:

Nothing has the power of relieving inflammation and neuralgic pains like this Ointment. It penetrates to the seat of the disease, and by its searching and purifying properties, it cures in a few days the most violent attack of rheumatism, gout, or neuralgia, however long standing. Where local remedies are required, they derive additional efficacy when used in combination with this Ointment. Sciatica, lumbago, pains in the back and loins, and weakness of the kidneys, are speedily relieved by the use of this Ointment.

Sore Throats, Diphtheria, Quinsy, Mumps, and other Derangements of the Throat.

In the appearance of any of these maladies the Ointment should be well rubbed at least three times a day upon the throat and upper part of the chest, so as to penetrate to the affected parts. Bathe the throat with hot flannels, and foment with hot water before each application. Relief will be speedily obtained, and a perfect cure will follow in a few days, if the treatment be steadily followed out according to the printed directions.

Both the Ointment and Pills should be used in the following cases.

Bad Breasts	Chilblains	Fistulas	Sore-throats
Bad Legs	Chapped Hands	Gout	Scrofula
Bite of Mosquitoes	Coco-Bay	Glandular Diseases	Scalds
Bunions	Corns (Soft)	Gout	Stiff Joints

Burns and Scalds	Contracted Cords	Piles	Ulcers

ENGLISH GRAMMAR SCHOOL,

CALLE LARGA DE BARRACAS.

Dr. De Pongerard, of the London University College.

This E-tablishment, which from its foundation has been patronised by the principal British Families of Buenos Ayres, is the exact reproduction of an English school, where a sound commercial education is combined with the acquisition of the French and Spanish languages as imparted to the pupils, and based upon the same system as in all first class foreign institutions of the kind.

An ever-watchful and constant supervision, on a strict moral principle of rule and propriety, are a efficient guarantee that the morals and behaviour of the pupils are carefully attended to.

The different branch s taught in the English Grammar School comprise the English, French and Spanish languages, Geography, Arithmetic, and Book-keeping in all its parts, Writing, and Religious Instruction.

Extra lessons such as Latin, Mathematics, German, Music and Dancing are also taught by special masters.

The situation of the English Grammar School, in one of the most delightful Quintas of the Calle Larga de Barracas, at the very gates of the city, is one of the most healthful and picturesque of the environs of Buenos Ayres.

MOST IMPORTANT DISCOVERY OF THE DAY

The Sheep-Farmers and the Public in general.

E. C. Calvert's Phenyline & Threbane's Sheep Salve

The great reputation these articles have enjoyed in England on account of their extraordinary efficacy against all diseases that they are subject to, induces the proprietor to inform them in this market as soon as the Sheep-Farmers commence their operations for the season. The Phenyline Sheep Salve is unique in the enormous short time it acts on scab, and in the certain destruction of all ticks, and consequently all disease peculiar to the skin of animal itself. With a seventh application of the Salve, the scab is cured, and the wool grows out fine and silky. Applying it at the time of shearing is the best time to which three applications are sufficient to keep the sheep free from scab for the year.

In Horse Cankers in the foot, grease, thrush, &c., one application is sufficient to cure the worst cases, however, long standing, and all diseases of the kind.

The Threbane Sheep Salve is a certain remedy for all internal Verminous diseases, and for which are sure. Phenyline is found particularly useful on the Continent, in England, and Australia, and numerous cases used for preserving hides, skins and leather from the ravages of insects, and for which purpose used with it in the dry state, and also in the solution of the several applications in England, who reports them to be perfectly sound and unaffected, whether made from the hides also declared to be superior in the market.

SAVINGS BANK.

BANK MAUA & C°.

— No. 103 calle de Cangallo. —

BUENOS-AYRES.

The immense advantages of Accounts Current are now so generally felt, and appreciated in the two great emporiums of the River Plate—Montevideo & Buenos Ayres—that those are very few Merchants who fail to keep one at the Bank in which they place the most confidence

The Bank of Mauá & Co. in Montevideo has already provided for the working class in that city, a safe profitable depositary for their savings.

The sums deposited in that most important institution are daily increasing and already reach a very large amount.

These advantages have not hitherto been enjoyed in this city by an immense number of Clerks, artisans, working-men & servants of all classes & conditions, who are equally interested in putting their savings out at interest, thus providing themselves with a reserve fund in case of need, sickness or old age, instead of spending them in the immoral gambling, in lotteries and other frivolities

The Bank of Mauá and Co. of this city following the example of their firm in Montevideo now offer the same facilities in this city and will open on the 1st October a "Savings Bank" at No 103 calle Cangallo from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. on week days and on Sundays and holidays from 10 a. m. to 12 m. for the reception of the savings of the classes already mentioned.

The Bank will deliver to each depositor a Pass Book in which will be entered the mount deposited and withdrawn

The depositor is permitted at any time to withdraw the whole or part of the sum deposited, in the former case the interest will be calculated up to date.

The Bank of Mauá and Co. is sufficiently known to the public by the benefit derived from the course of its operations which are regulated on the strictest and soundest principles and always directed to promote the general welfare.

The Bank of Mauá and Co. are also persuaded that this new branch of their business will render immense service to the working classes of Buenos Ayres and its neighbourhood.

Buenos Ayres September 19th 1863.

CONDITIONS.

1st. The Bank receives at interest any sum from Twenty five dollars currency or one silver dollar upwards.

2nd. The interest allowed is six per cent [6 p$] per annum which is liquidated every six months

3rd. The depositor can at any time retire the whole or part of the money deposited.

4th. Once the amount deposited exceeds Twenty five thousand dollars currency or one thousand dollars silver the depositor if he wishes can open an account current according to the rules established by the Bank.

5th. In case the depositor loses his Pass Book it can be replaced by another on paying twelve dollars currency, and advertising the loss in the public newspapers.
